sail alone

Hold on

When you feel like you are drowning | In a river full of tears | And you feel like there's no answer | You've been waiting all those years | Hold on... Hold on... | When you try to hide your weakness | And pretend that you are strong | When you try to find some loving | And you know that you are wrong | Hold on... Hold on... | Hold on to love, hold on to feelings | Hold on to everyone that's in your heart | Hold on to truth, hold on to your request | Hold on to everyone that's in your heart | Hold on... Hold on... | When you search for different meanings | And you can't make up your mind | When you climb the highest mountains | But there's things you'll never find | Hold on... Hold on...

Count on me

When the world is on your shoulders | And you need someone to care | When the sun ain't gonna shine any more | When your days seem much to heavy | And your nights are far too blue | There's some things that you can't stand any more | You can run and you can hide and you can fear that it's all over | But you can count on me | You can count on me | When your world is getting lonely | And your world is getting small | When the sun ain't gonna shine any more | When your days seem much to heavy | And your nights are far to blue | There's some things that you can't stand any more | I'm with you all the time | I'm with you all the time | As long as you are here | I'm with you all the time | And you know... yes you know | That I'll be there.

Beautiful

I don't know where to start | Seems that we are worlds apart | Though you're lying here, next to me | It started with a kiss | Now there's so much more to miss | Though I know that I should soon be gone | So I know yes I know I know this ain't good... | But you are beautiful | Yes you are beautiful | Should we try to end | This thing we started and try to be just friends | In the end | Though I know yes I know I know this ain't good... | But you are beautiful | Yes you are beautiful... | I hope, I hope, I hope you know | That you you're much more than beautiful.

Sail alone

You wake me in the night | Tell me that she's gone | Tell me that she left | Left you all alone | Left without a sign | Gone without a care | Took another step | She's no longer there | She told... told you long before | She told... told you long before | So she wants to sail | She wants to sail alone | On a river full of laughter | To a place to call her own | To a house that's full of brightness | To an ordinary world | To a truth she can believe in | She wants to sail alone | So you sit and wait | Wonder where to go | Wonder what she's doing | If she feels at home | All those silly questions | They don't make a sense | Better try to ask yourself | How to mend the fence | She told... told you long before | She told... told you long before | So she wants to sail | She wants to sail alone | On a river full of laughter | To a place to call her own | To a house that's full of brightness | To an ordinary world | To a truth she can believe in | She wants to sail alone.

Just fine

Now you're standing in the corner | Trying not to end in tears | Looking back to where we started | Once again you're standing here | Come around here take my hand | This is really not the end, my friend | When you're looking for an answer, looking for a sign | Wait until the storm is over, you're gonna be just fine | Nothing ever lasts forever and nothing stays in line | Wait until the storm is over, you're gonna be just fine.

Someday

Someday I will learn to trust, someday I will try | Someday I will learn to live and someday I will die | Someday I will learn to speak, someday I will dare | Someday I will learn to trust and someday I will care | How long... | How long is this been going on, tell me how long will I have to be the strong | How long will it take to find my way? | How long will it take to see that there's more than just this empty part of me | How long will it take to find my way? | Someday I will learn to stay, someday I will try | Someday I will learn to keep and someday I will fly | Someday I will learn to take someday I will dare | Someday I will learn to trust and someday I will care | How long...

The way I feel

When I look into your eyes, I see they're blue | Now I finally realize, that we are through | Guess you wanted something else, something good | Should have tried to let you in, I guess I should | Can we talk, can we make sense of it | Can we try to make it real | Do you believe we can make sense of it | If I could show the way I feel | When I see you passing by I try to hide | Try to run and walk along the other side.

She's so good

Sometimes I feel so blue, sometimes I feel so small | Sometimes I'm looking at the phone just waiting for a call | And even if I tried to put you out of my mind | I'm sure you would return in another place and time | I know it's all too late, you said I've had my chance | You're looking for another one who's giving you romance | These pictures in my mind, I know I won't forget | 'Cause I'm in love with you and it's you I will regret | She's so good to me, I know she's so good to me | I knew it from the start and now it's breaking up my heart | She told me that she had to go that she made up her mind | She wants to break it up my love and leave it all behind | She's so good to me, I know she's so good to me | I knew it from the start and now it's tearing us apart | She told me that she had enough, that she can't stay with me | She wants to start another life and feel forever free.

I belong to you

I would kill myself tonight | Just to know you're by my side | And I would do so many things | So much troubles they could bring | But I don't care for troubles | I just wanna tell you that I belong to you | You can tell me I'm a fool | You can think that I'm uncool | You can care for other men | Take your time and enjoy them | But I don't care for others | I just wanna tell you that I belong to you | That's why I want to have you near | That's why I wished that you were here | All through the darkest side of night | Through the pain and fight | That I belong to you | That's why my heart just aches for you | That's why I want to come with you | Just to be there for you and tell you once again | That I belong to you.

Still the most to me

Yes I always thought this time would be much easier than it is | I never thought that it could hurt that much to me | To know that you are far away and won't be by my side | I hope that in the end you'll stay with me | 'Cause you mean still the most to me even though that you can't see | Yes you mean still the most to me even though that you can't see | You're so many miles away and I don't have a chance to say | How much I miss your warm embrace and that smile upon your face | Yes you mean still the most to me even though that you can't see | I hope sometimes you think of me I hope sometimes you care | I hope you won't forget that I am missing you | I'm longing for the day that we will meet again | And I can show you this is all so serious.

I'll be there

When times get into trouble and you need some love and care | When you've been hurt too many, there is no love to spare | I'll be there... I'll be there... | When no one lays beside you, you think you've had too much | When every day is empty, there's no one there to touch | I'll be there... I'll be there... | I'll be there to guide you | Protect you from the storm | I'll be there to carry | Try to keep you warm | Hmmmm... | When people give their shoulders, when people turn away | When nights are cold and lonely, days are full of gray.

Take care my love

You keep saying to me you're not sure | You keep saying to me that you're looking for love | You are missing oh so much | But you wanna feel my touch | I don't know what to say, what to do. | You keep asking yourself about the meaning of love | You keep hiding your fears and your thoughts from me | Do you wanna stay with me | Do you wanna be so free | I don't know what to say, what to do. | Take care my love, take care my love | It's hard to say goodbye to you | But I will try, yes I will try | To keep all the good stuff in my heart | To keep all the good stuff in my heart | You keep saying to me you were lucky | To got to know a man just like me | Can't believe in what you say | Now you follow your own way | I don't know what to say, what to do.

You are wonderful

Now that you're alone and you don't know where to start | Now that you're alone you're afraid | You are hiding tears but you know where they come from | Now that you're alone you're afraid | Sing lalala... you are wonderful... | You wonder what went wrong and you wonder where to go | Now that you're alone you're afraid | Trying to be strong but you know you won't succeed | Now that you're alone remember this | Sing lalala... you are wonderful... | Tell me where to go tell me where to start | Tell me how to live with a broken heart | Tell me where's the sense in this life | Tell me where to find peace and happiness | Tell me how to catch a little tenderness | Tell me where to go in this life.

Special thanks to...

Bernie Staub	For mixing, mastering and co-production.
Markus Krummenacher	For his divine guitars and friendly support.
Felix von Wartburg	For his brilliant work in photography.
Sandra Genhart	For her patience during home recording sessions.
My cat «Luna»	For calming me when things went wrong.

And to all those people that crossed my way...
